

4 January 1956

Our Library has nothing in the way of books specifically dealing with Espionage Laws of foreign countries.

However, the Library of Congress is presently making just such a compilation, by country, and the project is expected to be completed by the 1st of the year.